Entered at the Seymour, Indiana Postoffice as Second-class Matter.

THURSDAY MARCH 6, 1902.

FARMERS report that the roads have been improved very much by the sunshine and wind the past two days.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS has accepted an invitation to deliver the commencement address at Potter College, located at Bowling Green, Kentucky.

CONGRESSMAN GRIFFITH's claim of credit for the establishing of rural mail routes out of Seymour puts in mind of the "we killed the bear" story.

NOW THAT the democratic lawyers of Jackson county have observed Prosecutor Hudson through one term of court will they be for him for a second term? Wonder if they have been impressed with his manner of conducting cases? Will any of them say that Hudson is a promising lawyer or a vigorous prosecutor?

JUDGE BIGGS, of Warsaw, has rendered a decision holding that the law conferring judicial power on the town clerks is unconstitutional. If this decision is upheld by the supreme court it will interfere with the judicial business of about 700 town clerks in the state.

POLITICAL GOSSIP.

Congressman Overstreet will probably be chosen again as secretary of the congressional campaign committee.

W. T. Hicks, of Bloomington, was here today on business, and at spare moments he had something to say in favor of his fellow townsman, Nat. U. Hill, who is a candidate for state treasurer.

State Chairman Goodrich announced to an Indianapolis Journal man Wednesday that the following members of the state advisory committee had already been chosen:

First District—John H. Osborn, of Evansville.

Second—John W. Graham, of Bloomfield.

Fourth—Edward A. Remy, of Seymour.

Fifth—Elias H. Owen, of Rockville.

Sixth—Owen Carr, of Rushville.

Seventh—George B. Elliott, of Indianapolis.

Ninth—John C. Wingate, of Wingate.

Eleventh—Elam H. Neal, of Jonesboro.

Thirteenth—Lon Craig, of North Judson.

Wm. N. Coffey, who represents the Central Howard Association, of Chicago, an organization which has for its purpose the finding of employment for discharged prisoners, spoke at the Methodist church last night at the close of the prayer meeting service.

Enjoying His Lay-off.

W. P. Billings of Seymour, Ind., an employee of the census bureau, is not allowed to enter the bureau because he happened to be in a restaurant the other day and the census bureau officials learned afterward that a few days before one of the waiters was taken down with the smallpox. Billings is now having a good time visiting among his friends while his salary goes on.—Louis Ludlow in Indianapolis Sentinel.

Respectfully,
W. H. BURKLEY, Chairman.
E. A. REMY, Secretary.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

Onions may be readily transplanted if growing too thick.

Weeds should not be allowed to grow or crusts to form around young fruit trees.

Do not buy any kind of fruit trees or plants simply because they are cheap.

With all transplanting it is important to see that the soil is well filled in around the roots.

Prune spurs to one developed bud, for the nearer the old wood the higher flavored the fruit.

A weak solution of poultry droppings is a wonderful stimulant of plant growth. It may be used weekly with good effect.

Only well rotted manure should be applied around the grapevines. Fresh manure excites the growth, but does not mature it.

Quince trees should be mulched as a protection against extreme heat and cold, as the roots are small and usually near the surface.

In selecting trees to grow as a wind-break it is quite an item to have them of a close growing habit and of as nearly perpetual foliage as possible. Plant a double row.

Turkish Delight.

The oriental sweet called "Turkish delight" that travelers in the east are sure to taste is not difficult to make.

Have ready an ounce of gelatin, preferably the clear imported sheet variety, which has been soaked for two hours in a very little cold water. Bring to a boil in a porcelain pot a pound of granulated sugar and half a cupful of cold water, adding the gelatin, and boil till the mixture dropped in cold water can be held in the finger. After it has boiled steadily for fifteen minutes add the juice of one lemon and a tablespoonful of brandy. Pour to cool in a clean tin which has been wet in cold water, cutting the mixture as it stiffens into squares like caramels. Each piece is dusted with powdered sugar or rolled in waxed paper.—New York Post.

No Proof Necessary.

Colonel C. L. Colquhoun of Louisiana was halted on the street one day by a gentleman who evidently did not know him.

"Can you tell me," asked the unknown, "who is the best lawyer in town?"

"I am, sir," replied the colonel without hesitation.

The man looked surprised.

"Excuse me," he said; "I should like to have you prove it."

"Don't have to prove it, sir," thundered the colonel; "I admit it!"—New York Times.

Deceived.

She—I'd never have married you if you had not deceived me about yourself.

He—Rather you never would have married me had I not deceived myself about you.—Boston Transcript.

It is well enough to make hay while the sun shines, but if there were no rainy weather there would be no hay to make.—Saturday Evening Post.

Every man barked at by a dog is not a thief. Every man talked about by a gossip is not guilty.—Aitchison Globe.

A Gloomy Outlook.

She could not forbear asking him after the refusal if he were of the belief that he would never love again.

"I dunno," he said sadly. "It is an even chance that I will have another attack next spring."—Indianapolis Journal.

A Reminder.

"Yes," Mrs. Starvem was saying at the breakfast table, "it's a splendid book. It certainly is strong and—"

"Ah, that reminds me," remarked the absentminded boarder. "Please pass the butter."—Philadelphia Press.

BREAD AND BRIDES.

THE PARTS VIANDS PLAY IN MARRIAGE CEREMONIES.

Sweetheart Cakes of a Dutch Damsel—Egyptian Bridegrooms Must Work For Their Supper—Wine in China—Married by Candy.

The important part which different viands play in marriage ceremonies makes rather an interesting story.

For example, the Swedish bride fills her pocket with bread, which she dispenses to every one she meets on her way to church, every piece she gives away averting, as she believes, a misfortune.

On the threshold of her new home a bride in Serbia is presented with a plate of bonbons, one of which she and the bridegroom share between them, the divided bonbon signifying that no bitterness shall divide them. A sieve of wheat corn is also given to the bride. Of this she takes three handfuls, throws it over her head, emptying the sieve upon the ground. The scattered corn denotes that the bride brings joy and prosperity into her new home. The bride is still outside the door, nor can she enter until she has placed two loaves of bread beneath her arms and taken a bottle of wine into her hands. With these emblems she at length crosses the threshold of her future home. At the first meal of the newly married pair bread and wine must be taken by both to denote that henceforward all they have shall be equally divided between them and that their married life shall be passed in unity and fidelity.

A Russian wooing culminates in the betrothal feast, at which the bride elect in return for a long tress of hair which she has given to the bridegroom receives bread and salt and an almond cake.

In Holland if a young man is in love with a girl and wishes to ask her hand in marriage he buys a small sweet cake and, wrapping it up in soft paper, proceeds to the house of his innamorata. He is ushered into the midst of the family circle. Without a word he walks up to the young lady and lays the cake on the table before her. The rest of the family affect not to notice anything unusual and continue their work or their reading. The young man turns aside and talks to the father or mother on some very ordinary subject, keeping his eyes eagerly fixed on the girl while he is conversing. If she accepts his offer, she takes up the cake and eats it. If she is a coquettish damsel, she tortures the young man by turning it over and playing with it before she decides to taste it and then enraptures him by eating it to the last crumb. If, on the other hand, she wishes to have nothing more to do with her admirer, she puts it back on the table. The young man takes up the cake and, with a "Vaarvol byzamen," leaves the house. The matter is then kept a profound secret by both families, and the outer world never hears of it. In place of a wedding cake in Holland wedding candies are given—"bruid zulkers" they are called. They are passed around by children and are served in flower trimmed baskets.

Bride pudding is the name of the piece de resistance served at a Norse peasant wedding. This is not brought on the table until the last day of the festivities, three or five days being given up to feasting and merrymaking. The appearance of the bride pudding is the signal of dismissal, and at the close of the feast the guests say farewell, presenting at the same time their gifts, which consist of cash. This the bride receives, the bridegroom presenting each donor with a glass of wine.

Partaking of two tiny glasses of wine is all the ceremony necessary to make a marriage in some Chinese provinces, provided a quantity of fireworks are set off. These are to wake the "great joss" from his sleep that he may witness the ceremony.

At a Hebrew wedding man and wife sip from one cup of wine, symbolizing participation in the joys and pain of earthly life. The emptied goblet is placed on the floor and crushed into a thousand pieces by the bridegroom, who thus shows that he will put his foot on all evils that may enter the family circle.

At an Egyptian wedding feast meat is not eaten because of the belief that it would lead to future bickering between them. Eggs, fruits and sweets are served. The first meal in the new house cannot be touched until, after every device known to the bridegroom, the bride has been at last induced to speak. Once she utters a word, he claps his hands, and supper is brought to them.

Married by candy is the plan in Burma. Of all marriage rites this takes the palm for conciseness and sweet simplicity. Here the dusky lady takes the initiative. Seeing a youth who pleases her, she offers him a sweet. If he accepts her proposal, he promptly eats the token of affection, and they are thereby made man and wife. In the act of eating alone this most primitive rite consists. If the youth be not favorably disposed, he remarks with all gallantry that that particular candy is not to his taste, and the matter is ended. In Mandalay three weeks after a marriage kinsmen bring the bridegroom a bowl of rice, a vessel of wine and a fowl, much of which collation is sacrificed to the spirits of ancestors.

A Bagoda bride—in the Philippines—if she be good looking and the daughter of a warrior, is sold by her father for about $30, which sum is not given in money, but in vegetables and chickens. One way of estimating such things is at the price of a brass gong. Such a gong is worth thirty silver dollars, and it is a valuable maiden indeed who will bring two brass gongs.—What to Eat.

John L. Williams, an old soldier of Brownstown, went to Jeffersonville this morning to visit his children.

Mrs. Della Smallwood and Josie Apel, of Columbus, went to Honeytown today to visit their father, Martin Jacobs, who is sick.

Homer Johnson, of Orleans, was here last evening.

most distressing cases of inflammation and ulceration of the ovaries and womb. I have known that doctors use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound when everything else failed with their patients. I have advised my patients and friends to use it and have yet to hear of its first failure to cure.

"Four years ago I had falling of the womb from straining in lifting a heavy patient, and knowing of the value of your Compound I began to use it at once, and in six weeks I was well once more, and have had no trouble since. I am most pleased to have had an opportunity to say a few words in praise of your Vegetable Compound, and shall take every occasion to recommend it."

HEALTH VERSUS STRENGTH

A Good Stomach Is Worth More Than Muscular Power.

The strong man was doing some of his most sensational "stunts." Evidently his performance was free from trickery. The muscles spoke for that, and there were ease and enjoyment in all his movements.

"What a splendid fellow!" exclaimed a college student in a front row to his older companion. "I'd give all I expect ever to know of the classics in exchange for that physique. Just think what it means—unlimited endurance and strength. With that and a fair share of brains, there isn't anything a man couldn't accomplish."

The older man smiled at the youngster's enthusiasm.

"You're doing very well as it is," he said. "The battle may generally be to the strong and skillful, but it isn't just muscular strength that counts. To tell you the truth, you've inherited something that is worth more to you than all the mere muscle you could put on in a lifetime. I mean your stomach."

"Yes, of course; that's important, but—"

"It's everything, my boy. Now, suppose I should tell you that that big fellow up there is in greater danger of collapse than you are likely to be if you take fair care of yourself and exercise in moderation."

"How is that possible? He is the picture of health and strength."

"And what do you say to this fellow?" asked the physician, drawing a photograph from his pocket. It was the likeness of an athlete not much the physical inferior of the strong man.

"This chap," continued the medical expert, "came to me for treatment recently. He needed it. The flesh was literally falling off him. He was losing a pound a day. You see, he had suddenly collapsed."

"What was the trouble?"

"Stomach. I'm not telling you anything new, but it's astonishing how much an elemental truth is overlooked. A man is no stronger than his stomach."

"If your stomach isn't far better than that of most Americans, look out! This patient of mine had changed his food, and it came near costing him his life. So don't be too quick to envy the strong man, and go ahead with your classics, not forgetting twenty minutes or so a day of well directed exercise."—New York Herald.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers, they filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidneys.

Kidney trouble causes quick or uneasy heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-working in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle by mail. Home of Swamp-Root, free, also pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

The Rural Newspaper.

The rural newspaper of today is far in advance of what it was ten years ago. The tone of the editorial management has vastly improved. The character of the editorial writer, so far as manifested in the products of his brain, has been elevated, and he has acquired intelligence and dignity. Very often today the weekly newspaper is the medium through which are expressed some of the wisest conclusions upon policies of the day, some of the shrewdest suggestions for men at the center of influence and power. The improvement which has marked the newspaper profession in the last decade is cause for the highest gratification to those who have long been connected with this medium of public education. And the newspaper fraternity has good reason to congratulate itself, as well as the public at large, that men who conduct newspapers, large and small, are for the most part learning the dignity of their calling and are making strenuous efforts to place it where it belongs—among the best agencies which are helping to develop civilization.—Elkhart (Ind.) Review.

Holiness Revival.

Armory Hall was crowded last night. The people listened attentively to the word as Brother Ferguson preached from 1 Chron. 28:9, latter clause of the verse, "If thou seek Him, He will be found of thee; but if thou forsake Him, He will cast thee off forever." Rev. George Church, of Utica, and Rev. Barrett, of South Bethany, are in the city to attend these meetings.

Services tonight at 7:30 and tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 at Armory hall. All are cordially invited.

If you want to be well all the year, take Rocky Mountain Tea now. Greatest renovating medicine known. 35 cts. Ask your druggist.

Strongest Advocate.

They who believe most in advertising are they who have proved it most. John Wanamaker, Marshall Field and others of the great advertisers have not scrupled to commend it to others and have confessed that much, and very much, of their success is due to their faith in printers' ink. The age has been educated to full appreciation of the value of publicity.—Printers' Ink.

Mother—Now's the time to have your little ones take Rocky Mountain Tea. Keeps them well all the year. Great Medicine for children. 35 cts. Ask your druggist.

The Atmosphere of Books.

If our homes were furnished with more character-building books, and less bric-a-brac and costly furniture, our children would get a much better start in life.

To bring a child up in an atmosphere of books, to surround him with the works of great minds from his infancy, and lead him gradually to an appreciation of the works of the intellectual giants of the race, is equal to a liberal education.—March "Success."

Geo. B. Russell made a business trip to Crothersville today. The Crothersville correspondent was mistaken as to the Medicine company he represents. He represents the Co-Operative Medicine Company instead of the Converse Medicine Company as stated.

Mrs. W. H. Baldwin received a letter and a postal card today from her son Dr. Will Baldwin, mailed at Barbados February 2. This island is one of the small islands of a group east of the Caribbean Sea and belongs to the West Indies group. Dr. Baldwin is surgeon on a vessel that carries trade from New Orleans to South Africa and on this trip the vessel is bound for Natal. He reports that the voyage is very pleasant indeed, the weather being fine.

Applicant Defeated.

For the fifteenth time the legal voters of Owen township have successfully remonstrated against applicants for license to retail liquor in that township. It certainly takes considerable nerve to go up against that sort of sentiment. The majority of the people over there have expressed themselves so often and so positively that they ought to be left alone now. No man should desire to establish a business in a community that the people there do not want.

The Memphis Appeal says the letter of Lieutenant Governor Tillman asking the President to withdraw his acceptance of the invitation to present a sword to Major Jenkins "was a piece of vulgar boorishness singularly characteristic of the Tillman family."

EXPRESS CASES ON TRIAL

The Constitutionality of the Brooks Law Attacked.

Judge Buskirk is today hearing the cases brought against the Adams and the United States Express Companies under the Brooks express law. Three cases have been brought against the Adams and one against the United States company in this county and in each case a penalty of $500 is demanded because of a refusal of the old express companies to receive express packages from the Southern Indiana Express Company in the same manner and on the same terms that they received and transfer express from and to each other. Similar suits have been brought in Lawrence and Vigo counties.

The defense is attacking the constitutionality of the Brooks law. Edward Daniels, of Indianapolis, and O. H. Montgomery represent the defense and Thos. J. Brooks, of Bedford, Joseph H. Shea and T. M. Honan, of this city represents the prosecution. It is evident that an appeal will be taken to the supreme court no matter how the cases are decided in the circuit court.

More Harmful Than Alcohol
Overeating Worst Form of Intemperance.

If your food is undigested, you are underfed, no matter how much you eat. And the underfed man is, to the extent of the underfeeding, crippled for the battle of life. On the other hand, there is such a thing as overeating. The harm done by indigestion caused by overloaded stomachs exceeds that from the increased heart beats caused by the use of alcohol or whiskey.

Eat as much good food as you need but don't overload the stomach. If your stomach is weak it may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you ought to use a good digestant like Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, which digests what you eat without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics contained in Kodol Dyspepsia Cure soon restore health. You don't have to diet. Don't eat too much. That's harmful. But eat enough and of sufficient variety. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will digest it. It quickly relieves the sensation of fullness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. It prevents belching and absolutely cures indigestion and other stomach troubles. Equally good for children.

Lemuel James, Marysville, O., says: "I suffered from dyspepsia for many years but a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure completely cured me and I heartily recommend it to all sufferers from this disease."

NEARLY ALL OF INDIANA'S SUCCESSFUL FARMERS

Business Men and Home Folks Read The Indianapolis Journal.

IT IS THE BEST ALWAYS

Because it is a splendid representative American morning newspaper, carefully edited, clean, bright and able, a wise counselor for old or young, patriotic and national from end to end. Because it is accurate and fully reliable. Time spent reading the Journal is never wasted. The matter is so well arranged that you always know just where to find what you want. Then, too, you feel that you can believe what you read in the Journal without affidavit.

Because it gives, by actual comparison, more columns of news than any other Indiana paper. It is an 8 to 12-page paper every week day, 20 to 22 on Sunday.

Because it prints the most complete and accurate Market Reports.

Full Associated Press Markets, with special wires to New York, Chicago, Buffalo and Louisville.

Highest, lowest, opening and closing bids on Stocks and Bonds.

Representatives of Union and Interstate Stockyards here at home, with special articles daily.

Representative sales and Indianapolis Vagon Market.

Afternoon papers are printed too early to get full market reports. Make comparisons and see. The Journal reaches you early in the morning with fresh and reliable information with which to proceed to your day's business.

Because it prints an abstract of every Indiana Supreme and Appellate Court decision. Also all local court news and many important court decisions handed down in other States.

Because it has the best Washington correspondent in the field. He keeps you thoroughly informed on all National Affairs, and often has special signed letters.

Because it carries the full reports of the Associated Press, with cables all over the world.

Because it has a special correspondent in every Indiana town of size. All important happenings are promptly chronicled.

Because it has a special department of farm news.

Because it prints a better sporting page than any other Indiana paper.

Because it prints all those features dear to the heart of the women. It leads in forecasting changes of fashion, in society matters, cooking recipes and other subjects of interest to good housekeepers.

Because it prints every class of news that any other paper circulating in Indiana prints, and much more than most of them.

Because it does not use cartoons and illustrations merely as space fillers—good and poor indiscriminately—as do many papers. Good cartoons and illustrations are used moderately.

Because it does not print vile or offensive news or advertising matter. The majority of patent medicine advertisements, with their awful illustrations, are considered objectionable, and are not admitted.

Because it is Republican and conservative, and confines its politics to its editorial columns. The news columns give the truthful, impartial facts.

Because it costs only 10 cents a week (Sunday 5 cents extra), and puts before you fresh, clean news of the city, State and country up to the hour of going to press.

A WORLD WIDE VICTORY.

The recent victories of the house of Baldwin at the Paris Exposition give to its products a value and prestige not possessed by any other American piano. The grand Prix awarded the Baldwin Piano is an honor coveted by all the manufacturers of the world, but which has never been bestowed upon any American piano except the Baldwin. The Silver Medal awarded the Hamilton pianos and organs shows the estimate of the International Jury of these Standard Instruments. The fifteen other awards [gold, silver and bronze medals, and honorable mentions], serve to emphasize the Great one, and show the high value placed upon the details of construction and the inventions embodied in these instruments.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.

The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for these diseases, we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it is a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. W. Milhous, druggist.
